What is the Graduate Equity Fellowship?

The Graduate Equity Fellowship Program at CSU Dominguez Hills provides financial support to CSU Dominguez Hills graduate students with strong academic records. The program is designed to increase the pool of CSU Dominguez Hills graduates who pursue and complete doctoral programs and consider teaching careers. Fellowships range from $500 to $4500 for the academic year. The maximum grant period for any student is two years.

Who is eligible?

Graduate Students in need of financial aid who are accepted to a graduate program, show a strong academic record, have a faculty sponsor, and commit to a research project are eligible for the fellowship.

Applicants must file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid and be determined eligible for financial aid in accordance with the Congressional Methodology and federal verification standards, and maintain the following eligibility criteria:

1. Be classified as a California resident for fee purposes;
2. Provide the Standard Student Contribution in accordance with the Congressional Methodology;
3. Demonstrate financial need;
4. Be admitted to the University and to a master’s degree program (i.e., be classified or conditionally classified);
5. Maintain satisfactory academic progress (3.0 GPA).

Eligible students are those who are likely to complete a master’s degree expeditiously. One purpose of the fellowship is to minimize the debt burden by replacing loan money with grant money. It is hoped moreover that the fellowship will enable students to complete their programs more quickly than would otherwise be possible. Graduate fellows are encouraged to continue on to doctoral programs and to consider faculty careers.

What must you do if selected as a graduate fellow?

3. Must agree to participate in group meetings and ongoing advising
